

Martin vs. Sam Houston

Game Summary

It was a perfect night for baseball at the Diamonds at Martin and your JV Warriors were up against the Sam Houston Texans for their 2nd meeting of the 2009 season. Lance Mardock was on the hill for the Warriors pitching a complete game. He faced 21 batters in 5 innings, giving up 1 hit and 1 run. The top of the 1st yielded no runs for the Texans. In the bottom of the 1st the Warriors jumped ahead with 6 runs using a combination of walks, errors, hit by pitches along with singles by Josh Beckham and Emilio Vialpando and a double from Alex Bradley. In the top of the 2nd the Texans made the most of a walk and an RBI single to score 1 run. The bottom of the 2nd the Warriors had another offensive run getting 4 across the plate on a combination of singles from Bradley, Aaron Warren, a double from Vialpando a walk and a SAC fly. Top of the 3rd was uneventful for the Texans. In the bottom of the 3rd the Warriors put another 7 on the board with 2 walks, singles delivered from Bradley, Mardock, Vialpando and Mike Hoffman. Alec Shurack knocked a SAC fly contributing to the run total. The top of the 4th was a 3 up/3 down inning for the JV team. In the bottom of the 4th the Warriors were only able to put 1 run across the plate, with Mardock singling again in this inning. In the top of the 5th, any Texan threat was shut down by the Warriors for the second win against Sam Houston this year.
